Framery O is perfect for making important calls, participating in video conferences and having a quiet space to focus on demanding tasks. With Framery O you can boost your office's efficiency and comfort. Placing the booths in the middle of the office staff allows you to realize an open plan office without the common noise problems. Due to great sound insulation the booth can be placed right next to the work stations. The acoustic felt and the acoustic polyester wool in the interior absorb sound, making the space also echo-free.

Framery O comes with a wide range of colours and few options for seating and tables. Air ventilation creates fresh and nice working environment. The Product is easy to assemble and relocate when necessary.
