Kontakt 120

Designed and Manufactured in Australia by Maxton Fox. The Kontakt System is the result of our ongoing design and research to meet the needs of the growing marketplace.

The simple aesthetic and clean lines set this system apart from the rest. The 120° is a perfect solution for anyone looking to create a dynamic office environment. The innovative frame allows clusters of workstations to be linked together forming endless design configurations for your office space. Kontakt offers power below desk or in a vertical power rail located in the centre of the system.

The Kontakt 120° leg and frame system combines function and strength, creating a clean and elegant work environment with low height System 25 screens.
